

Serious youth violence and knife crime plan

2018/19

Foreword from Hammersmith & Fulham Council

---

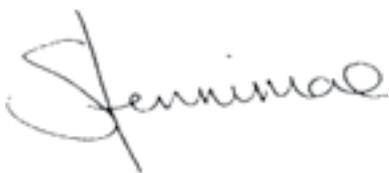

We do not accept that crime and violence is a foregone conclusion for any young person in Hammersmith & Fulham, regardless of their circumstances. As a council, we are redoubling partnership efforts to divert young people at risk of offending away from a life impacted by crime. The government has slashed police funding and, as we prioritise the safety of our residents, we have stepped in and funded the largest-ever number of council-funded police officers.

We need a thoughtful, joined-up approach both to crime and to its causes. Our policies on the local economy, education and social inclusion are designed to crack down on the causes of crime.

Through this action plan, we set out a comprehensive plan of partnership activity to tackle the immediate threat to safety posed by knife crime in Hammersmith & Fulham.

In this Action Plan we set out how we will support communities as they stand up against knife crime. We will provide effective help for young people who are involved in gangs, or at risk of becoming gang members. We will identify pathways for young people to steer them away from criminality, alongside taking enforcement action with partners to get dangerous individuals and weapons off our streets. We will work with the third sector and community to tackle knife crime, gang, and youth violence. We will go on investing more on crime prevention and in CCTV.

I am grateful to everyone who has taken part in the development of this action plan. It is clear there is much to do but we are committed to making a difference and I look forward to working together to deliver change.

Councillor Sue Fennimore
Deputy Leader.

Introduction

Reducing knife crime related injuries and community concerns around knife crime is a key priority for us, our partners and Community.

We recognise that in addition to catching knife offenders and deterring young persons from carrying knives, victims of knife crime, their families, and our wider community need support.

This Action Plan underpins both the Mayor of London's ambition to "drive knife crime out of London" through his 2017 'London Knife Crime Strategy', and our own 2017 'H&F Vision' to create a borough for residents that is "safe, clean and green."

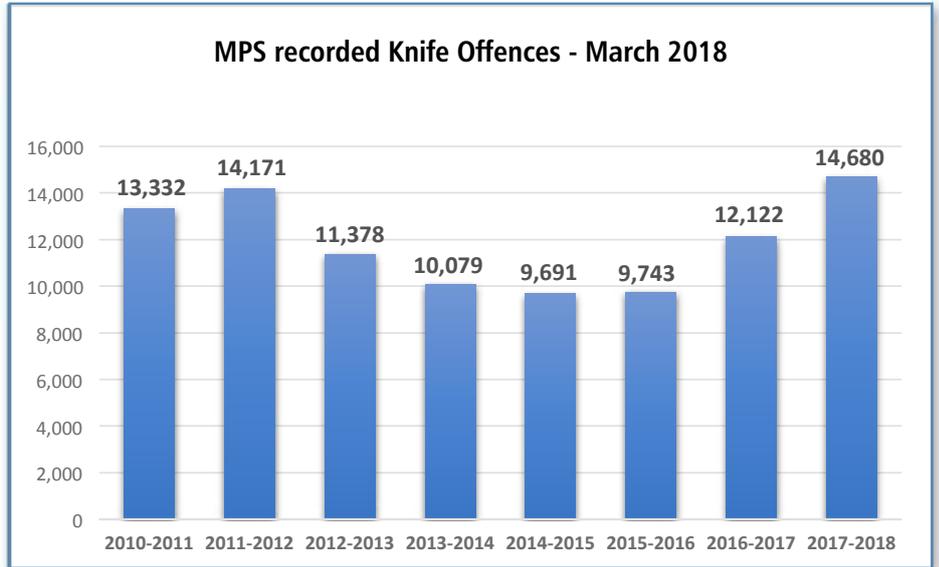

The intersections between gang-related crime and knife-related crime are further outlined in our Ending Gang Violence and Exploitation Partnership Strategy (2016-2021).

This action plan will be used to monitor all the activities that we undertake with our partners to reduce knife crime in the borough.

Between March 2017 and March 2018 there were 14,680 knife crime offences, which is an increase of 21% when compared to the previous year (March 2016 – March 2017).

Knife crime - the London picture

Knife crime is on the rise across the country. In 2016/17, London accounted for approximately three in ten recorded knife offences nationally. In the period March 2016 to March 2017 12,122 knife offences were recorded in London.

Knife crime - Hammersmith & Fulham

In Hammersmith & Fulham, between March 2017 and March 2018, there were 235 knife crime offences. Between March 2016 – March 2017, there were 234 knife crime offences, which is an increase of 0.4 % (or 1 offence) over the past 12 months.

Since 2016 Hammersmith & Fulham has seen a slight increase in incidents involving violence and weapons, and even though we have relatively low levels of knife crime when compared to other London boroughs, any increase is unacceptable.

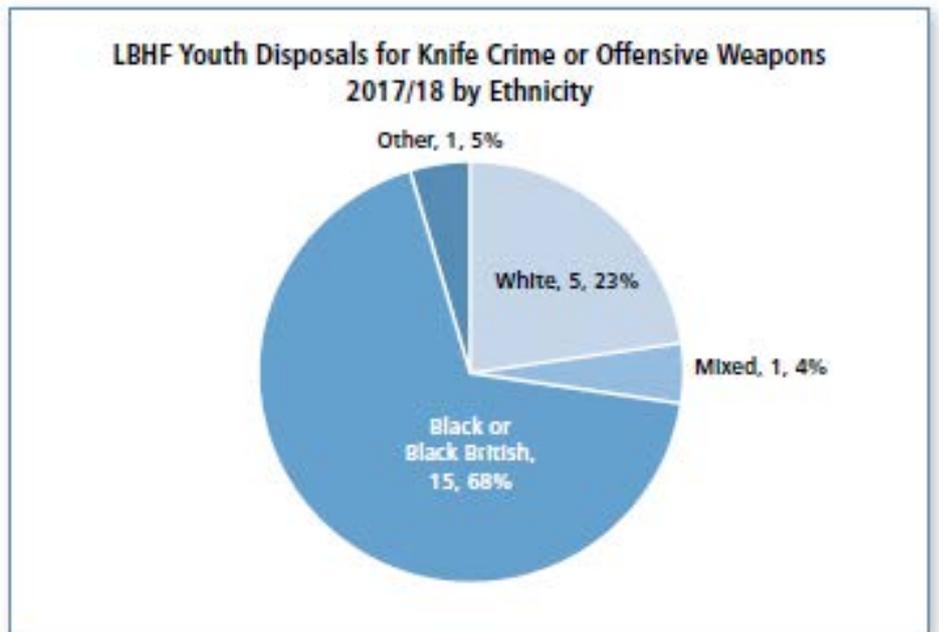

In 2017/18, according to Youth Offending Team (YOT) data, 22 young people received statutory and out of court disposals in relation to knife crime or offensive weapon offences.

In 2017/18, the majority of incidents involving knives in H&F were committed by young people, under 18, who were actively involved in, or on the periphery of gang activity.

In 2017/18, the majority of young people arrested, charged and found guilty of knife crime in H&F were young people of either black or black British ethnicity.
